Workshop on Swadhar conducted by Mrs Dhande and Miss Parvatikar Jilha Samanwayak Samaj Kalyan Vibhag Yavatmal.

Workshop commenced with the introduction of the speakers Mrs Dhande, Jilha Samanwayak, Social Welfare Dept Office, Yavatmal & Mrs Parvatikar, Jilha Samanwayak, Social Welfare Dept Office, Yavatmal. Felicitation was carried out by Mr Charjan Lecturer P Wadhvani College of Pharmacy Yavatmal.

Guest highlighted the workshop by making students aware of the facts that Students are facing problems due to inappropriate ratio of the admitting backward students' number from day by day increasing numbers of professional and non-professional colleges and limited numbers of government hostels for accommodating those admitted backward students. Hence it limits or restricts future academic year admissions. Building, space availability, and initialization admission procedure in government hostel for the backward students which are not getting admission to government hostel on time will take a long time, found to be a reason for restriction. So for the reason government has decided to endorse an amount for SC and Buddhist student aspiring to take post matric admissions to professional colleges and institutes. The endorsed amount is for meals, accommodation and occupying other facilities required during the studies directly transferred to the account seeded to Aadhar.

They provided the audience with a valuable philosophy of getting scholarship as to increase one's performance. He concluded the talk by igniting a necessity of scholarship for pharmaceutical students to bring in new approach for human welfare rather than just sticking on and modifying the existing ways of survival in the field.

The workshop was concluded with the felicitation of representatives from Social Welfare Department Office & Vote of thanks by Mr Girish D Darwhekar.

“Environment” and “Trees” became the buzzwords for the Wadhvani family at Yavatmal as they participated in a mass Tree Plantation drive taken up as part of the similar drive done in India, thanks to the initiative by Yavatmal Zila Vikas Samiti. About 25 fruit and 70 non-fruit saplings were planted by about 120 students and 25 members of the staff after a very colourful inauguration programme presided over by Mrs M D Kitukale, Principal P Wadhvani College of Pharmacy Yavatmal and inaugurated by the chief guest Prof Dr A. V. Chandewar, Principal P Wadhvani College of Pharmacy Yavatmal B.Pharm M.Pharm Course. Welcoming the guests Shri D. W. Wargantiwar, spoke about the importance of saving our earth for future generations. The chief guest, Prof Dr A. V. Chandewar highlighted the role volunteer played in making him a Principal and about the importance attached by Pharmacy field for the protection of our environment. He said that students could lead the country to a 'green' revolution. Mrs M D Kitukale, Principal appreciated the efforts taken by all the stakeholders in the greening initiative. This was followed by a folk song in Marathi sung by student a student council member. After the vote of thanks proposed by Shri D. W. Wargantiwar, , the official inauguration programme came to an end. All the students and staff then went ahead planting the saplings in the pits already prepared for the purpose..

Industry Expert Guest Lecture on Current Trends in Pharma Industry By an eminent speaker Mr Rajesh M Argulwar

Guest Lecture commenced with the Saraswati puja. Adorable Principal Prof Dr A V Chandewar gave his view on the topic changing trends in Pharma industry & made students aware of understanding the global need to adopt changes in Pharma trends. Mr Girish D Darwhekar Lecturer introduced the speaker, Mr Rajesh M Argulwar, Assistant Manager, Drug Regulatory Affairs (US Market), Alkem Laboratories Ltd Mumbai. His talk was mainly a comparison of the western and Indian scenario of pharmacy education and research. He commenced the talk with an article titled “Current Trends in Pharma Industry” which he had published based on his research and industrial experience in the Alkem Laboratories Ltd Mumbai during his tenure. He discussed various strengths and weakness of our Indian pharmaceutical education system major of which was the vast curriculum which seemed to be a benefit and flaw at the same time. He emphasized the fact that though the syllabus will cater students aspiring for all fields, at the same time by the end of the UG course it could pose burden to who have limited future plans. He suggested the western approach of elective and selective courses in final year as a solution to the same. He also advised to include phycology into the curriculum so as to mould the students into better human beings before being good professionals. In terms of research, Mr Rajesh M Argulwar appreciated the intelligence and active foreign participation of Indians but pointed out the major drawbacks in Indian manpower as lack of inclusiveness and multi-discipline integration. He provided the audience with a valuable philosophy of focus as to increase one’s performance. He concluded the talk by igniting a necessity of pharmaceutical students to bring in new approach for human welfare rather than just sticking on and modifying the existing ways of survival in the field. The Guest lecture was concluded with the felicitation of Mr Rajesh M Argulwar & Vote of thanks by Mr Girish D Darwhekar.
